

PEACE BILL TO PASS HOUSE IN ANOTHER WEEK

Will Clear Calendars With Exception Of Three Measures.

TARIFF BILL READY

Senate and House at Odds Over Reapportionment Legislation.

Washington, May 25.—Passage by the house of a peace resolution, expected the latter part of next week, will clear the house calendars of all important legislation excepting the tariff and revenue bills, and the reapportionment bill.

The tariff bill is to be ready for action by the house the middle of June. It has been found impossible for the house and senate to reach a basis of agreement on the reapportionment legislation based on the census of population for 1920. The house passed a bill increasing its membership to 483, or 48 more than the present membership, in order to escape many reductions in state representation. Under the plan proposed, Maine and Missouri would have lost representation.

The bill was opposed in the house by members who objected to any increase in the present size of the house and by others who wanted the increase as few as possible.

When the bill reached the senate, the house delegations who were hurt under the house plan appealed to their senators and the latter have held up the legislation until the present time.

Reduction of Freight Rates Fatal Declares Rail Chief

Expenses Must Be Lowered First Says Howard Elliott.

Washington, May 25.—General reduction of freight rates would still further reduce the ability of the railroads to survive and would not help solve the present complicated economic and psychological conditions in the United States, Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific Railroad told the senate interstate commerce committee at today's session of the railroad investigation.

"It is a mistake to suppose that there can be any general reduction in rates until expenses have greatly decreased," Elliott declared. "In saying this I do not mean that no rates should be adjusted but I believe it would be unfortunate to give the impression at this time that the railroads can be sustained as contemplated in the transportation act, with reduced rates, until it is evident that the expenses have reduced enough to justify rate cuts."

"Even though the railroads are keen for business," Elliott continued, "they are responsible for the maintenance of their properties, and they must be limited by this responsibility. They cannot reduce rates simply to increase gross earnings, if the gross earnings at reduced rates means no net earnings or a loss. To ask the railroads to do this in the long run is a dangerous policy for the general development of the country."

Probe Brought On By Strike Which Disrupts Work.

Washington, May 25.—Prospective settlement of the garment workers strike which has practically paralyzed clothing production in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities last summer will not deter a senatorial investigation of the controversy if the senate concurs in the recommendations of Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who first proposed the inquiry.

GIGANTIC OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE SWEEPS DUBLIN

Attempt Is Made To Burn Government Buildings—Seven Dead and Damage Amounts To About Five Millions.

Dublin, May 25.—The most gigantic outbreak of violence in Dublin since the Sinn Fein Easter rebellion in 1916 flared up here today with an attempt to burn the government buildings.

Some persons were killed including members of the staff of the custom house, who were shot down by mistake, but up to this afternoon it was impossible to get the exact number of casualties.

The damage was estimated at about $5,000,000.

Fighting started after the rebels had applied the torch to the custom house. As flames leaped up from the customs house members of the clerical force ran into the street. Mistaking them for Sinn Feiners the black and tan policemen opened fire killing and wounding some of them.

The custom house was destroyed. The fire spread from this building to other government structures. Liberty Hall, headquarters of "Jim" Larkin during the 1916 rebellion was set afire and destroyed.

As soon as the alarm was given British soldiers in full marching equipment began pouring from the barracks. Soon armored cars were rumbling through the streets and all thoroughfares in the business district were resounding to the roar of rifle and revolver volleys.

Firemen who were on their way to the conflagrations were turned back at the pistol point by republicans. The whole city was thrown into panic. The streets leading to the suburbs were choked with refugees. A huge pall of smoke from burning buildings hung over the water front.

The International News Service correspondent was seized while investigating the damage done in the vicinity of the custom house. Subsequently he was released but had to make a long circuitous journey to reach the cable station owing to flying bullets. The bullets did much damage to buildings that were untouched by the flames.

A large number of republicans had gathered along the Quays. Soldiers and black and tan policemen were sent to dislodge them. Heavy fighting developed during which the crown forces charged time and again.

RECOVER AUTO ALLEGED USED IN BANK THEFT

Cleveland, O., May 25.—Five men were arrested here this morning shortly after daylight as they pulled up at Superior Avenue filling station in an automobile. They are believed to be the bandits who yesterday afternoon robbed the Union National Bank at New Castle, Pa., of $60,300.

No trace of the loot was found in the car, but police are not satisfied with their explanation that they came here from Franklin, Pa., to purchase a car. A 45 calibre revolver was taken from one of the suspects. Police at New Castle have been asked to come here to attempt to identify the suspects.

Youngstown, O., May 25.—Local police believe they have recovered the auto used by bandits in the robbery of the Union National Bank at New Castle, Pa., yesterday. They picked up an abandoned Hudson car bearing Pennsylvania license No. 239609 this morning at Bissell and Florence avenues.

The machine, a new one, showed evidence of recent hard driving. Two cartridge holders partly filled were found in the car as well as a brown cap.

Police are searching the city for the men on the theory that a gang of bank robbers are making Youngstown their headquarters. The officers think that the same men pulled the job at New Castle that held up the Farmers' National Bank at Canfield last Friday.

We'd stroll along until we saw a real sporty looking car with a sort of sporty looking fellow in it. They kind of go together. I'd direct him to drive us to a lonely spot to meet another girl. There, instead of my girl friend, there'd be a couple of the boys with revolvers hold him up and even take his car away from him. Oh, it was too easy."

EXPECT FRESH DELAY AS NAVY BILL COMES UP

Senate Tackles "Bigger American Navy" Appropriations Bill.

SEE SNAGS AHEAD

Speechmaking On International Situation Believed Certain.

Washington, May 25.—The senate tackled the $500,000,000 "bigger American navy" appropriations bill again today in the hope of disposing of it finally by nightfall.

Fear was entertained by Republican leaders backing the measure that fresh delay probably would be encountered when the amendment sponsored by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, which would direct and authorize the president to call a disarmament conference between the United States, Great Britain and Japan is reached.

Reported withdrawal of the president's objection to the Borah proposal is believed to have paved the way for its adoption by a substantial majority of both Republican and Democratic senators, but it is anticipated that when it is called up for a vote it will be productive of more speechmaking on the international situation.

Senator McCormick, Republican Illinois, a member of the senate foreign relations committee and other senators have indicated they will probably use the Borah amendment as a vehicle for a general discussion of the Japanese question with pointed reference to the Yap issue, Shantung, the proposed renewal next month of the British-Japanese alliance and the division of former German island possessions in the Pacific between Great Britain and Japan.

Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, an "irreconcilable" opponent of the $100,000,000 increased naval appropriations recommended by the committee has offered a series of amendments which may consume considerable time before the bill itself is finally voted upon.

If there is anything you do not understand be sure to call us up. Today you have three new words to find and new slogans to write. Get busy and stick till the very last. The word loves a winner. Are you going to be one? If it should happen you should miss two or three times, do not give up but go at it again. Don't forget there are a number of awards. ## CASE AGAINST MAN DISMISSED BY COURT

The case against Edward T. Thornhill, 411 South Wayne avenue, Dayton, liverman, and former Xenian, charged with violating the state narcotic law was dismissed Tuesday by Judge W. G. Powell in Dayton Police Court.

No apparent reason for the dismissal of the case was evident other than the claim of the defense that no witness was produced who saw Thornhill furnish morphine to Mrs. J. A. Davis, wife of Dr. Davis, 713 Washington street, as was charged in the affidavit sworn out by T. W. Robinson of Columbus, state narcotic inspector.

Mrs. Davis testified on the stand that she had been a drug addict for ten years, and had been procuring morphine from Thornhill for two and a half years, two or three times each week, paying $20 for the drug. She is said to have spent $2,000 or $3,000 a year on the drug.

The woman admitted that when she wanted some morphine she called Thornhill's number and then met him on some down town street where the transaction was made. Thornhill said he purchased the morphine from a Dayton physician without prescription, and an affidavit has been filed against the physician. The bottles of morphine alleged sold to Mrs. Davis by Thornhill contained ten or 12 grains, it was brought out.

"The piggies are eating me up" said the plucky youngster as she was rescued.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD

One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

IF you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.

There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

ON ACCOUNT OF BLADDER NOT NORMAL

It is a Symptom That Should Be Heeded—A Dayton Man's Experience. Mr. John Lumpkins, 7 Carrie St., Dayton Ohio says in his own home paper, the Dayton Herald: "For two years I had to get up fifteen to twenty times each night. The scalding and pain was awful. After taking a few doses of Lithiated Buchu, the gravel came, until at least twenty-five pieces have passed. Some were as large as a bean. I am glad to have this way of telling my fellow sufferers about this great new remedy."

Lithiated Buchu acts on the kidneys and bladder like Epsom Salts on the bowels. It cleans them out, relieving the bladder of all abnormal deposits. The tablets cost 2c each. This price makes it possible to place in the formula several expensive drugs which are necessary for prompt relief. The formula is on the package. It is likely you have never taken anything similar. Try a few doses for backache, scalding, scanty or high colored urine, frequent desire, gravel and other deposits of the bladder.

Be sure to get Keller formula Lithiated Buchu at Sayre & Hemphill's and drug stores everywhere.

Xenia Lodge No 49, F. & A. M. Special communication, Friday May 27, 1921, 6 o'clock p. m. Standard time. Work in the E. A. & F. C. degrees. Visitors welcome. By order of J. W. Gardner, Sr. W. M.

"Yes," Harold replied, "but the Supreme Court reversed my case without remanding it. I'm all out of trouble now. I feel I'm entitled to citizenship."

SHE DREADED TO SEE NIGHT COME

Mrs. Ellison Heard Clock Strike Every Hour—Sleeps and Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac.

"Anyone suffering from the after effects of the 'flu' can't do better than take Tanlac, for I have tried it and know from experience," said Mrs. Eliza Ellison, 1572 Malasia St., Akron, Ohio.

"The flu left me in a badly run down, weakened condition and, instead of regaining my strength like I thought I should, I kept losing it. I had no appetite, and after meals I suffered a great deal from gas and heartburn. I was so nervous I scarcely ever slept any, after hearing the clock strike every hour of the night and just dreaded to see night come. I just had that tired, worn out feeling all the time, and I finally became so bad I could hardly walk around in the house. In fact my condition made me miserable.

"But it is certainly remarkable how Tanlac restored my health in such a short time. My appetite is so keen I can hardly get enough to eat. I enjoy my food as I haven't in a long time and everything agrees with me perfectly. I have only taken three bottles of Tanlac and besides gaining ten pounds in weight I'm so strong that it is a pleasure to do my work. My nerves are steady, my sleep sound and refreshing and I feel better in every way than I did before I had the 'flu.' My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanlac is sold in Xenia by Sayre & Hemphill and leading druggists.

HARDING FIRM FOR A WORLD ASSOCIATION.

Ambassador Harvey told only half the truth in London last week. He declared the Harding Administration irrevocably had turned its back on the existing League of Nations. That is correct. What more Harvey omitted to say is that the Harding Administration is committed, by every one of its pre-election and post-election pledges, to march forward solemnly to the organization of a world association for the preservation of peace. From that program, however much Colonel Harvey may bare his bitter-sour soul in England, the Administration will not deviate.

The world association the Administration hopes to promote may grow out of the Supreme Council, which the United States has just rejoined, or rise from the framework of the Versailles-Geneva League. That is regarded as an insubordinate detail that time and expediency alone can determine. On the basic principle of American determination to organize the world for world peace, President Harding and his Cabinet stand foursquare to the wind. Bitter-ender "wind" in particular will not drive the Administration bark from the course it has set itself.

Mr. Harding and Mr. Hughes look upon the Supreme Council, in short, as the only effective international body to preserve peace yet brought into existence. Compared to it, they look upon the League of Nations as a futile side-show.

The country will not be far wrong in expecting that one of the earliest plans the Harding Administration will submit for arranging the Supreme Council into a noble structure will be the adoption of the Root world court, or something very much like it.

The United States would regard such a court an ideal agency for the solution of the territorial and economic disputes now convulsing Europe.

PROHIBITION UPHELD BY CONGRESS.

Congress on Monday blasted hopes of the thirsty who had expected to revel unchecked with John Barleycorn until July 1.

An appropriation of $200,000 was added to the second deficiency bill so that 700 Federal prohibition agents now being discharged because of a lack of funds could be retained and enforcement continued until new funds are available.

"Dry" leaders swarmed in on the House just before the amendment was adopted. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, and Commissioner Kramer took the amendment to the Capitol and turned it over to Representative Andrew J. Voistead, of Minnesota, Republican, author of the enforcement code. Mr. Voistead introduced it. It was adopted without a record vote. Note that, will you, so few opposed that it was not necessary to count them.

In many of its selections of enforcement agents, the government has been, to say the least, unfortunate. The evidence of this is shown on all sides. As late as the middle of April of this year, Judge Hazen of the Federal court in Buffalo sentenced five enforcement agents to terms in the Atlanta penitentiary, together with a fine of $500 each, for accepting bribes. Others are yet to be tried for the same crime, while reports are widespread implicating many others of not only winking at violations of the law but conspiring against its enforcement.

Prohibition must be upheld and enforced as any other law, but with more determination, because there are so many disloyal, anarchistic and determined efforts being made to break it down. If the liquor crowd can change the law, sweep the eighteenth amendment out of the Constitution by lawful methods, and thus bring back the saloon with its flood of crime and woe, the way is open. They can not do it! The divine providence is against them, the will of all good men and women opposes them, the righteousness of God thwarts them and the stars in their courses fight back their forces of darkness and death. If they can not accomplish their desire in lawful ways, let them submit to the law. Of course some want to drink whisky and beer, and some want to make and sell it. What if they do? Some want to steal horses and some want to rob houses and banks.

HOW TO BUILD HOUSES.

"Build a house from the inside out," advises an expert. "Houses should be made for people, not people for houses."

An architect usually goes about it exactly in the opposite way. That is natural enough—for the architect. He knows architectural rules, but he does not know the needs and preferences of the families who may inhabit the houses he plans.

It follows that the only way for any family to get a house that suits and fits that particular family is to plan in detail exactly what it wants, in the way of living quarters and accommodations, and then get an architect to whip those plans into shape and make them practicable, and add the necessary exterior. The architect can conform the outside to the supremely important inside, and make the walls, roof, windows, porches, etc., as attractive as conditions permit.

This is the way nature works. The snail doesn't have to conform to the accidental shape of a shell thrust upon it. The snail makes its house to fit its shape and needs. The bird does the same with its nest.

Physiologists say that all bodily exteriors are accommodated to interiors, the bones, skin, muscles, etc., conforming to the delicate internal organs and serving their needs. And the organs themselves are structures developed by intelligence for its own purposes. The poet Spencer understood that, when he wrote:

"For of the soul the body form—doth take;
For soul is form, and doth the body make."

People are getting this view-point more than ever before, and planning their own houses for their own needs instead of taking resignedly whatever sort of house somebody else chooses to provide for them. As a result, American homes are growing more individual, useful and beautiful than any human habitations have ever been.

FIVE DECADES OF ADVERTISING

Indian Shows.
Fakers
World War
Reactionaries
Fifty Years Ago

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

In 1871. Fifty years ago there was no advertising at all worthy of the name. There was only a little unimportant, uninteresting notice here and there, but nothing more than that appeared in any newspaper or journal fifty years previous to 1871.

In 1881. Enter the Indian Medicine Show, the patent medicine baseball nine, et al. The national magazines also begin to grow and offer entertaining fiction and do much to educate the public in art. Advertisements of some selling value and interest begin to appear and the magazines print funny pictures in the back to get the reader to read advertising.

In 1891. Enter the half-tone illustration into wide use and with it Advertising's ablest aid—adequate illustrations of selling value. About this time the Advertising Agency begins to be a factor, and advertising grows and progresses. But the Advertising Solicitor is still barred from office buildings. Fakers still abound.

In 1901. Here we begin to note the first great upward growth of advertising as an economical and practical arm of business. There still remains in New York City a man who continues to vow that he will never buy an advertised article, but the advance is not to be stayed by reactionaries. Advertising along with the automobile is not to be held up, and the great American boom is on, full swing. A fine crowd of men have come into the business and fakers have been crowded out.

In 1911. It is difficult to indicate by facts or diagrams the remarkable growth of advertising in this decade ending in 1911. Great magazines grew as if by magic. Newspapers, feeling the competition grew and expanded, greatly improving their facilities to advertisers. Rates, instead of being many and various, became standardized. More Sunday newspapers, seeing the success achieved by one of the leaders added features; daily papers developed to a greater degree the lure of cartoons. Both newspapers and magazines flourished equally in advertising and agencies and clients did like wise. A few more years of high speed, a little slackening up and then....

From 1914 to 1918 we learned, however, in the World War, that advertising was one of the biggest and most useful servants our Government had.

In 1921. The War is over and reconstruction is now well advanced. It has proved almost as much of a battle as the War itself, but the elasticity and adaptability of the American people are always to be depended upon. Our great resources, our improved banking laws and national optimism are some of the many certainties which are prophetic of greater prosperity.

Both the War and this period of readjustment have shown us the great power of advertising. The concerns which have played fairly and advertised freely are as sound as a rock and prosperous. The commercial agencies report that 94 per cent of failures are non-advertisers. They will continue to grow in influence and prosperity because "Success has a way of walking with all men, all concerns, who serve well."

Advertising today, if used righteously and in the Spirit of Service, is the mightiest modern force which business has at its command. Five decades of development it is a high and splendid profession, giving employment to many and justifying every good thing that its friends claimed for it while it was coming into its own.

Advertising can be made more and more a great weapon to combat the forces of ignorant or malicious opposition which develop within our wonderful country, against its institutions, which have grown strong and virile in an atmosphere of true liberty and equal opportunity for all.

And because advertising is a great force, we should read advertising, for it makes us live with all the vital living forces which are today working for good. It is as important to our Education as the daily news columns.

The reader who omits the advertising is going backwards. He is missing wonderful opportunities for enriching his life, increasing his happiness and contributing to his comfort.

Read advertising. It is full of pleasure and profit to him who faithfully follows it.

Is It Yours?

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF EMERSON
May 25, 1803

The most famous philosopher and essayist that America has produced is Ralph Waldo Emerson, who was born in Boston in 1803, and who belonged to a group of writers and thinkers which for a long time gave America a foremost place among the literary nations.

He was the son of a minister. His father died when Emerson was a very small child, and for a while it was doubtful whether the boy would get the education he wanted so much. Fortunately for the world he was able to study as much as he liked.

After graduating from Harvard he taught for a while, then followed his father's footsteps and became a minister. At the age of 26 he married a very beautiful girl nine years younger than himself and settled down in Boston so happy that he could not trust his own happiness.

After two years his wife died, and he gave up his pulpit because his gradually changing philosophy made conventional preaching impossible. He went abroad and met Carlyle with whom he formed a life-long friendship, which is one of the famous friendships of literature.

When he came back to America it was to lecture and not to preach. He married again and settled on a small New England farm which became the headquarters for the Transcendentalists, a group of radical thinkers.

Emerson was philosopher, lecturer and an essayist whose prose style has been very much admired.

ATTEND TO LITTLE THINGS.

Big things are merely little things put together.

The backwoodsman goes to the city and is overawed by the sight of the tall buildings. Yet those buildings are constructed of small bricks any one of which considered separately is quite comprehensible.

So it is with most large accomplishments. We are mystified and impressed by big battleships big business success, big political triumphs.

But all big things are made up of small units. Battleships are constructed of comparatively small pieces of metal, business successes are made up of day by day thinking and planning and working, political triumphs are the result of year in and year out work with the voters.

The tasks which face you may seem large and difficult, your troubles may seem unsurmountable. Yet if you live one day at a time, if you divide your undertakings into units and tackle them separately you will find that the things which seemed so difficult are not so hard to handle after all.

You may want to save a thousand dollars. It may seem a hopeless undertaking. Yet if you can save a definite amount each week you'll find that a thousand dollars is not so difficult to accumulate. It means merely saving approximately ten dollars a week for two years, or five dollars a week for four years. If your savings are deposited in a savings bank, compound interest will work for you and make your funds increase surprisingly.

What ever you undertake, remember just this: "Big things are merely little things in combination." You can do the little things, taken separately. So you need not worry about the big things.

THE PAINTFEST.

The air is fragrant with the taint of turpentine and linseed oil for everyone is using paint, according to the rules of Hoyle. And this I hold to be a sign that Jonah has gone overboard; trade brightens up, the outlook's fine, and normalcy will be restored. Ill fares the land whose people say, "We can't afford to paint the barn," who see the fence all dingy gray, and do not seem to care a darn. For years the people have been bent beneath a load of care and woe, and so they would not spend a cent for any brand of paint we know. Their load was great, they had the dumps, and there was no relief in view; unpainted went the cistern pumps, the cowsheds and the hencoops, too. While things were thus I always said, "Our land will have its ugly sores, until men buy Venetian red, and paint their roofs and cellar doors. All optimistic spiels are bosh, and normalcy is out and down, and talk of progress will not wash, when shabby houses fill the town." But now the sign for which I yearned is evident in every grad, the smell of linseed oil's returned, and it has made all boosters glad. Men seek the paintshop with the cusp, the kopecks and the iron men, and then they ply the useful brush, and make the old shacks young again.

WET WEATHER HAS EFFECT ON WHEAT INQUIRY SHOWS

By C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician.
Wheat

Wheat is showing effects of wet weather.

Yellowing, dying of leaves at roots, thinning out, are some of the complaints received, though taken as a whole condition of crop continues favorable.

Much corn planted this week. reports indicate that one-fourth of crop was planted Wednesday.

The effects of the wet weather is beginning to show in many wheat fields of the State, causing yellowing and lack of continued vigorous growth. The complaint is made that wheat is thinner on the ground than it appeared to be two weeks ago. Weather has been generally favorable for farm work, and taking the state as a whole 25 per cent of the corn crop is planted. Wide spread complaints are received of the difficulty in preparing corn ground for planting.

Wheat—The condition of wheat is generally at a standstill, with no material injury from fly as yet apparent. There is wide spread complaint of yellowing and other effects of the wet weather.

Corn—About 25 per cent of corn planting is reported as completed by the middle of the week.

Farm Work—Farm work has proceeded rapidly with the weather generally favorable.

Northwest Section.
Only scattering injury from the Hessian fly is apparent. The condition of wheat continues the same as a week ago. About 30 per cent of corn is planted, and complaints of difficulty in preparing the corn ground are general.

North Central Section.
The change from wet to dry weather has not benefited the wheat. The plants are reported as thinner on the ground than was thought to be true. About 15 per cent of corn planting is completed. Numerous complaints of difficulty in pulverizing the corn ground. Considerable increase in soy bean planting is anticipated for this year.

Central Section.
The effect on wheat of the continued wet weather becomes more apparent as the ground dries out. About 22 per cent of corn is planted. Corn ground is generally difficult to prepare.

East Central Section.
Twenty-four percent of corn planting is completed, with difficulty reported in preparing ground.

Southwest Section.
Numerous complaints are received of injury to wheat from weather conditions. About 14 per cent of corn planting is reported done and within the next few days a large percentage of the fields will be planted.

South Central Section.
A considerable number of adverse reports have been received on the condition of wheat. Corn planting is 30 percent completed.

South Eastern Section.
Some scattering injury from the Hessian Fly is reported in this section, although wheat in general continues in about the same condition as for the week before. About 40 per cent of corn planting is finished. Corn ground in this section seems to be easier to prepare than in most other sections of the state.

EDNA KENT FORBES

DEVELOPING THE LEGS

Every time short skirts come in style the number of my readers who wish to improve the shape of their legs and ankles increases enormously. From this it would seem that a woman cares to make beautiful only the part of her body that shows. I should rather hate to believe this because a woman's real aim should be to be beautiful all over, for herself as well as for others.

Short skirts have been in style for a long time and are likely to continue so—though the exaggerated shortness, like all extremes of style, has lived out its brief life. Nevertheless the new skirts show the ankle and graceful curve of the calf of the leg. If the line here is bad, either too straight or too suddenly fat, it spoils the whole impression of the figure.

One of the best exercises for developing the legs is dancing. Swimming is also very good, and for that matter so is any exercise that necessitates quick walking or running. There are a great many women who have no opportunities either for dancing or athletics, who write me and say that they cannot therefore properly develop their bodies. They can by doing exercises at home.

One of the finest exercises for developing the legs from the knee to the ankle, is to walk about the room on the tips of the toes. Every time the busiest woman can manage this for about five minutes a day. If she does I think she will notice a decided improvement—unless, of course, she is hopelessly fat or thin.

Hazel—If the pores of the skin have become coarsened, it takes persistent treatment to refine them. An ice rub following the regular cleaning of the face, will close the pores. Olive oil may be used on the face, if you prefer it to a cream.

A Reader—The hair tonic is not on sale at any drug store. Yes, it is a formula of my own, which I am pleased to offer to the readers of the "Chats," as it is the best tonic that I know of for hair that is turning grey prematurely. Send an addressed stamped envelope for it.

Patty—Bleach your freckles by using lemon juice or that from cucumbers. Warts are congealed particles or dead skin.

W. H. M.—Do not eat between meals, and substitute green vegetables for the starchy ones.

She is such a vivacious, frolicsome little girl—you can't be angry with her, and you're pretty happy when it all comes out all right. ## WITH THE OHIO SOLONS

C. C. WALTERMIRE, CORRESPONDENT OHIO REPUBLICAN EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION.

Columbus, May 25.—It would be a matter of genuine regret to the Democratic organization and the press of the state if the seeming differences between Senate and House of representatives as well as those with Governor Davis would be ironed out and it would come to pass that the alleged "Legislative Anarchy" was all a myth. This is not at all improbable. The situation has, of course, been overdrawn and misrepresented by the Democratic organization and the Bourbon press. The Governor and the General Assembly are both working toward the same end. The purpose is to enact only economical remedial and constructive legislation in the interest of the general public. Much of this character of work has already been accomplished by the 84th General Assembly and it has all had the O. K. of Governor Davis. The contention over final adjournment is largely a bugaboo. The opportunity of the Democratic press to make a mountain out of a mole hill has been encouraged by some indiscreet utterances of overambitious statesmen who aspire to state office and endeavor to get their names on the front page of the daily press. Members of both the Senate and House are disposed to discourage this character of statesmanship.

Legislative Anarchy does not exist. The General Assembly has not failed to agree to adjournment within the meaning of the Constitution. There is evidence that the resolution passed by the House that gave rise to this report is regretted by the more conservative leaders of that body.

Uppermost in the minds of both branches of the Legislature is the interest of the state. There is a general agreement that the Taxation question is the one most important problem. Those who favor a recess session of the General Assembly are among the members who have devoted many years to a study of this issue and are profoundly impressed with the imperative necessity of writing in the Ohio statutes a fair, just equitable and workable taxation law.

Senator Frank E. Whittemore, a member of the House in the 80th and 81st General Assemblies, the Republican floor leader and serving his second term in the Senate, has a conviction that the Legislature should accomplish this result.

Mr. Whittemore was the author with Frank Parrott, of Fayette County of the Parrott-Whittemore taxation measure in the 81st General Assembly. He was a member of the Joint Taxation Committee of the Senate of the 83rd and Chairman of the Taxation Committee of the 84th General Assembly. During these years he has been a student of Taxation affairs, has consulted experts and made an exhaustive survey of Taxation laws of other states. He came to the Senate of the 84th General Assembly, not only one of the best informed members of the Legislature on taxation affairs, but also with a strong conviction that the interests of all the people could be best served by the new administration writing into the statutes of Ohio a permanent, constructive taxation law that would equalize taxes and lessen this increasing burden.

He is among the members who believe the present General Assembly can and should solve this problem. Together with many of those who share his opinion, he believes the General Assembly should recess until next winter and after consulting with constituents and calling into counsel the best minds of the party, return for the task. He does not fear the criticism of those who seek political advantage if he can be instrumental in rendering to his party and the state this service.

Prominent House members are reported as saying they now believe they are under greater obligations to the state and to their constituents than to the authors of a political feud and they can best serve the former by returning for this work.

Governor Davis is committed to Tax reform and is known to be insistent for relief of this kind. The Governor and Senate leaders, therefore, having the same commendable purpose, it will doubtless develop that they are not hopelessly divided on this subject and another good Democratic story will be spoiled.

TOBACCO GROWERS WARNED TO LOOK FOR WILDFIRE

That tobacco growers should take heed to the prevalence of wildfire, a bacterial tobacco disease, is pointed out by the department of botany at the Ohio Experiment Station, Wooster.

The disease has been raging in eastern tobacco sections and was also in the southwestern tobacco section of Ohio, particularly in Hamilton, Clermont, Brown and Highland Counties in 1920.

The disease is characterized by spots one-half to three-eighths of an inch in diameter. In small plants this forms a wet rot of the leaves an inch in diameter. Later in larger leaves there is a small depression in the center of the spot and surrounding this is a broad yellow halo.

So far no successful control in field culture has been determined, but tobacco men are asked to watch for the disease in their plant beds. Fields set out from these infected beds develop the disease and severe damage results.

Farmers finding evidence of disease in tobacco seeds plots are asked to notify the department of botany, Ohio Experimental Station, Wooster.

FARMERS PREFER TO TILL SOILS OF DARKER COLOR

Farmers have a preference for dark colored soil for growing crops, according to soil specialists, for dark soils, properly drained, are quite productive. One reason for their preference is because of the organic matter which they contain.

The organic matter which is simply plant residue matter is sometimes regarded as a soil's most valuable constituent; it forms a storehouse for much of the fertilizing material in the soil.

Soils having plenty of organic matter are generally easier to till; they are less susceptible to drought, and they help to maintain themselves with good efficiency.

Some soil practices, however, may hasten the destruction of organic matter, so that soils may become heavy and lifeless. To correct this, the plowing under of green manure or winter cover crop is recommended.

ENGINEER WILL BE SPEAKER AT FORUM MEETING IN XENIA

H. J. Manning, chief engineer of the Ohio Inspection Bureau, will be the speaker at the forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, May 31.

Secretary F. J. Slackford, arranged for Mr. Manning to speak here when he called at the Bureau office in Columbus, recently. He will speak on fire hazards, a question of much importance to Xenia citizens at this time.

The forum meeting arranged by Mr. Slackford is the first to be held at the Chamber of Commerce for some time. The meeting will start at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday evening and will be open to all members. Besides the talk to be delivered by Mr. Manning, which will be the principal subject of the meeting, other subjects will be taken up, and criticism and suggestions invited from the members attending.

With hot weather here, the Chamber of Commerce has discontinued the monthly banquets that are a big part of the winter program, and the forum meeting is the next big event on the Chamber Calendar. A community picnic, similar to that of last year, which was one of the most popular Chamber events of the year, is being planned, and will probably be held in July.

SOCIAL WORKER COMPLIMENTS LOCAL LEAGUE ON WORK

Members of the Social Service League, and of the executive board, of that organization were granted the opportunity of hearing Miss Ruth Hill, of New York, field worker of Ohio, for Family Social Work, at the meeting held at the commissioner's office in the city building Tuesday evening.

Miss Hill arrived in this city about four o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, after plans for the meeting at which she was to be present, were abandoned.

The topic discussed by Miss Hill and presented before the members was along the line of work that officials of the league had been striving for since its organization.

The progress of the work, was of high standing, according to Miss Hill, who complimented the work, in accordance with the size of the city and the amount of funds.

Encouragement was given the workers by Miss Hill the plan of action and organization, with Mrs. Eber Reynolds as secretary at its head, having met with successful results.

Suggestions for a different system of office work, and organization were made by Miss Hill. Being in a position to realize the scope and need of the family social work, in connection with the regular line of Social service activities, the amount of this work being done by the local organization met with Miss Hill's approval. The meeting Tuesday night was voted a success, a large number of the members being present to hear Miss Hill.

WHY YOU NEED IRON

Tomakeyoustrongand"brainy" and put the power into your blood to overcome disease germs

PRACTICAL ADVICE ON HOW TO DEVELOP GREAT ENERGY AND ENDURANCE

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is absorbed from the intestines into the blood. When the carbon in your food comes in contact with the oxygen carried by the iron in your blood, the carbon and oxygen unite and by so doing they give off tremendous energy, thereby giving you great force, strength and endurance. Without iron your blood carries no oxygen and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any strength from it—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire. You cannot get any heat unless the coal unites with the fire.

The strongest weapon with which to prevent and overcome colds, pneumonia, kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervous prostration, in fact almost any disease or disease germs is plenty of good, pure blood, strength, energy and endurance and the greatest energy carrier in the body is organic iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but organic iron like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and like the iron contained in what is known as organic Nuxated Iron, which may be had from almost any druggist.

If you have been taking metallic iron without benefit such is no proof that organic Nuxated Iron will not help you. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength, energy and endurance of weak, nervous, run down folks in two weeks time. It is such an extremely valuable product that even the Pope at Rome wrote especially of its merits in a communication to the Pharmacy Normale. It has been used and highly recommended by former United States Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of U. S. Courts, many physicians and prominent men.

Over 4,000,000 people are now using it annually. Satisfactory results are guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Sold by all druggists in tablet form only.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Registered U. S. Patent Office. Copyright 1921, L. N. B.

MENU HINT
Breakfast. Cereal. Oranges. Toast. Coffee.

Luncheon.
Rice Croquettes with Cheese Sauce. Baking Powder Biscuit. Endive Salad. French Dressing. Tea.

Dinner.
Beef Loaf. Brown Gravy. Baked Potatoes. Scalloped Tomatoes. Lettuce Salad. Mayonnaise Dressing. Pineapple Pie.

TESTED RECIPES.
Goulash—One and one-quarter pounds of beef, one-quarter pound of butter or good drippings, one big onion, four good-sized potatoes, seasoning, one good cup of cream.

Cut beef in dice, dredge well with flour, fry brown in butter, cut in the onion, add water and season well. Stew until done, add the potato cut in dice; when this is done, thicken with the cup of cream and a little flour. This will serve five people.

Brown Bread—Two and one-half cups corn meal, one cup cornstarch, one-half cup flour, one-half cup rye meal, salt to taste, one cup corn syrup, three and one-half cups sour milk.

Stir dry ingredients until well mixed, add the syrup, stir in sour milk, mix well. Steam four hours.

Sponge Cake—Beat three eggs with beater until very light, until bubbles are very tiny. Add one and one-half cups sugar (beat again); pinch of salt and flavoring (almond is very good); one-half cup cold water, one and one-half cups sifted flour, two teaspoons of baking powder.

Bake very slowly about an hour, lighting oven after cake is in. The beauty of this particular recipe is its simplicity of combination, and yet it is spoken of very highly as a very good sponge cake. This can be baked in an angel food cake tin, small muffin pans or in square layers and cut in squares.

A good dessert can be made, when baked in latter tin, by putting ice cream between layers of cake and a hot or cold chocolate sauce over it.

SUGGESTIONS.
A Good, Quick Frosting for a Cake—Use ten cents' worth of chocolate drops melted with a tablespoon of milk. Spread between layers and over top.

To Remove Ink Stains—When ink is spilled on a tablecloth, melt a candle immediately, take some of the tallow and spread it over the stain. Let the tallow dry. All signs of stain will disappear when the cloth is washed.

Dustless Duster—Saturate a piece of cheese cloth with turpentine and let dry thoroughly and you will have a good dustless duster.

When Wanting to Wash a Pillow Tick—Rip one end of the tick nearly half open. Sew a pillow slip nearly half shut, now sew the open part of the tick to the open part of the slip. Shake the feathers out of the tick into the slip, baste the open end of the tick shut, also the open end of the slip. No trouble, no work and no muss; all done in ten minutes.

To Clean Window Screens and doors and save painting each year, wash off with coal oil; just dampen an old piece of underwear. Will take off all dust and grease and blacken them. Water will not do this.

WHEN DAD CHUCKLES!
Norman, Okla., May 25.—Possession of motor cars by students attending the University of Oklahoma here is "detrimental not only to the individual student but to the best interests of the university," the Board of Regents today declared in a resolution which stated that no student would be permitted to maintain an automobile during his attendance at the university.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

THE OLD HOUSEKEEPER
GOSSIP.
For two days nothing dimmed my happiness—the long lazy days in which I followed my own sweet will, the happy evenings when Keith and I read or I played and sang to him. He was so very busy that he was weary when night came and we retired very early. It was a healthy happy time, and I felt closer to Keith than I had since I married him—rather, since we returned from our wedding trip to live with his sister.

The telephone shrilled. "Hello"—it was Keith's voice. "I have to run in town, Vera. Shall be back to-morrow."

"Do you want me to go with you?" I asked.

"No—that would be foolish. Try not to be too lonely with only Mrs. Brown for company."

"Oh, I shall be all right. Goodbye dear," I replied. The inflection of his voice betrayed anxiety for me, rather than his words.

I wondered idly why he had to go back to town so unexpectedly, but decided some business matter had arisen which needed his attention, and gave it no further thought. But I was lonely without him, and wandered around after dinner like a "lost soul," so Mrs. Brown said.

"Do play the piano for awhile, dearie," she suggested. "I love to hear you."

It was nice to have anyone tell me they loved anything I did so while she tidied up the house I played snatches of old things for her, then sang "Annie Laurie" and "The Last Rose of Summer."

"She thanked me tearfully. 'I always cry when I hear them old pieces,' she said, 'but I love to hear them and you sure do sing them good. Your mother-in-law used to sing a good deal when she was younger. You know I have been here 20 years.'

"Tell me about her when she was young," I begged. "I am not sleepy, and I would love to know all about her. She is so sweet."

"That's just the word for her, sweet. She was always just that—sweet. Then she told me of many interesting things Mother Sanderson did when she was young; of how father adored her, and never spoke a harsh word to her."

"Mr. Keith is more like his father than her, And Miss Margaret—" she always spoke of Margaret as "Miss Margaret" just as if she were a young girl—"she was never like either of them. Took after her Grandfather Sanderson. But she was always crazy over Mr. Keith. She seemed to love him better than she did anyone else, even her father and mother. Then when she had that trouble with her husband, Mr. Keith took her part and that made her love him more than ever. I never was so surprised by anything as when I heard he was married. Married to you, my dear. I never thought she would let him marry anybody."

"That's it! I expect he's told you all about her."

"Ridiculous or not, it was what I expected she'd do. Why, he never showed any girl attentions when he was real young that she didn't have a tantrum. It was strange," she went on, "how she used to run to him and make him do what-over she wanted him to. Even when they were just tiny tots she would coax or drive him. Then she would hug and kiss him."

"Tell me some more," I urged as she stopped.

"When I get talkin' I do run on something dreadful. But it all comes back to me—how once he brought a handsome widow down here. Miss Margaret was here staying awhile with the two little girls. After that widow went to bed, Miss Margaret come sneakin' down the stairs, and into the library where Mr. Keith was smokin'. They talked and talked, and finally Miss Margaret had awful hysterics and cried and took on dreadful. I couldn't help but hear because I was sleepin on this floor then."

"The next day he took the widow away, and Miss Margaret was all sweet and nice to him again. I heard her father say she had broken up a match. I guess Mr. Keith was mighty fond of her and I don't know as I blame him. She was a pretty creature."

"Do you recall her name," I asked as carelessly as I could.

"Was it by any chance a Mrs. De Lisie?"

"That's it! I expect he's told you all about her."

"That's it! I expect he's told you all about her."

"That's it! I expect he's told you all about her."
